

Leibniz in Europe

The Leibniz Association

The Leibniz Association connects 95 independent research institutions that range in focus from the natural, engineering and environmental sciences via economics, spatial and social sciences to the humanities. Leibniz Institutes address issues of social, economic and ecological relevance. They conduct knowledge-driven and applied basic research, maintain scientific infrastructure and provide research-based services. The Leibniz Association identifies focus areas for knowledge transfer to policy-makers, academia, business and the public.

Europe Office

The Leibniz Association's Europe Office acts as a contact point and service provider for its member organizations. It accompanies processes related to EU research policy and decision making and ensures the visibility of the Association and its members through networking and lobbying activities at different levels.
